Black Methodists for Church Renewal, Inc.—BMCR—is the organized Black caucus of The United Methodist Church. It represents and is dedicated to more than 2,400 Black United Methodist congregations and approximately 400,000 African American members across the United States.

It was organized as a forum for Black Methodists to define issues and develop strategies for change within The United Methodist Church. It aims to empower Black Methodists for elective witness and service; involve them in the struggle for economic justice; and expose racism at all levels in the church, its agencies and related institutions.

BMCR has encouraged the church to support and nurture the historically Black colleges and universities related to The United Methodist Church, improved educational opportunities for Black youth and young adults, and strengthened Black churches and the laity and clergy who serve those churches.
